IRELAND'S TRADE WITH AMERICA

No Reason Why It Should Not Increase.

RUSSIA'S SUGAR OUTPUT

A Consular Report on Turf Briquettes in Germany.

Heating Material Cut From the Moors Nice to Burn in Fireplaces and Grates.

The State Department has received several interesting and important reports from United States consuls which have been given out for publication. Consul Villanor, writing from Dublin, Ireland, says:

"All goods shipped from Dublin to the United States go via Liverpool or Glasgow, none being shipped direct. Ordinary bills of lading are in use, virtually the same as those in the United States. For freight rates between Dublin and other ports, special terms are given, based on quantity, class of goods, etc. No rebates are published, but the rates may be learned on application to the steamship companies of New York, Baltimore, etc. Port regulations are uniform throughout the United Kingdom, the charges being 2 cents per ton for vessels from over sea and 1 cent per ton for coasters. There are the usual charges for stevedores, labor, etc."

There is no reason why trade between the United States and Ireland should not be largely increased. The following articles are imported in large quantities from Germany, Holland and Belgium: Wood ware, paper, starch, iron nails and other hardware, brushes, glassware, bottles, leather, olomargarine and condensed milk. The United States exports to Ireland, in 1907, bituminous coal in use exclusively, retailing from $1.50 to $3.50 per ton. The best of our bituminous coal could be landed here and sold at a handsome profit at a considerably less price than that quoted above. There is a prejudice against American coal, which would have to be overcome.

"Timber comes largely from Norway, with considerable shipments from Canada and the United States. The trade in American states is growing, and could be largely increased with proper facilities for shipping."

Consul Van Buren in a report from Kiev on the utilization of petroleum residue, says:

"Mr. Max Bouchsein, United States consul at Barmen, has reported the invention of a mixture known as 'velina,' which is manufactured from petroleum refuse, refuse of animal grease or tallow of any other fatty substances, and soda lye. The last number of the British Consular Journal considers the matter of such importance that it calls upon its consular officers to send reports on the quality of the product. In this section of France there are several kinds of inferior quality, but the 'velina' of the United States, with the aid of 'velina,' could transform their coal into briquettes possessing a high calorific and gas-making qualities of a high grade. The 'velina' of the United States, which costs from $1.50 to $2.50 per ton."

"The Russian production of sugar is thus referred to by Consul Smith, at Moscow:

"The total output of all the sugar refineries of Russia from September 1, 1907, to September 1, 1908, was about 42,000,000 pounds (1,907,419 long tons). Out of this total, 35,000,000 pounds (1,590,909 long tons) were sold in Russia and the remainder exported to foreign countries. The Russian government levies an excise tax on sugar of 1.75 rubles per pound, which is equivalent to 2 1/2 cents per pound."

In reply to inquiries from the National Association of Manufacturers, Consul Cunningham writes from Aden:

"I send herewith a list of steamship lines which touch at this port. This does not mean that the lines are steamships. The irregularity of arrival of the boats bound for New York reduces the amount of cargo they would otherwise receive. The lines are the German, which is German or British Indian lines, and transship at Naples, Genoa and London."

"As is known, Aden is the collecting point for exports from Somalia and part of Abyssinia, and the distributing point for such articles as are imported, steamers to Zella and Berbera, and thence carried 20 and 30 miles into the interior of Africa by camel caravans. The freight rates charged by coast steamers on cotton goods and petroleum (the only imports of consequence from the United States) are at present unusually high. Zella, Bulhar, or Berbera (Africa) are about 75, 80, 85, 90, 95, 100, 105, 110, 115, 120, 125, 130, 135, 140, 145, 150, 155, 160, 165, 170, 175, 180, 185, 190, 195, 200, 205, 210, 215, 220, 225, 230,
